OF THE MILLBURY TOWN LIBRARY.

1880.

BOSTON:
ALFRED MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS,
No. 34 SCHOOL STREET.
1880.

INTRODUCTORY.

THE Millbury Town Library was founded in 1864, in accordance with a vote of the town in April of that year. At that time the library consisted of about six hundred volumes, which the town acquired by gift under the following circumstances : —

The Society of Social Friends was an organization composed in the beginning of the teachers and pupils of the Millbury Academy.

The Society had a fair May 1, 1851, and used the proceeds of it for the purchase of books, and soon after made the following record in their journal : ‘ The Society of Social Friends have made a beginning in the way of a library, under auspices that augur well for the interests of the Society in good reading, and which hold out flattering prospects for the future. To this beginning they hope to make additions from time to time, as their resources will admit and as the wants of the Society may demand.’

About 1855 a number of persons interested in agricultural pursuits formed a club for the purchase and distribution among its members of works on agriculture and kindred industries.

Their collection of books, amounting to over one hundred volumes, became by act of the club the property of the Social Friends Society in 1860, and became part of the library of the Society.

The warrant for the annual town meeting in March, 1864, contained the following article : “ Art. 19. To see if the town will raise and appropriate any money, and how much, for the purpose of establishing a town library,” and it was voted to refer the matter of the article to a committee to report at an adjournment of the meeting in April then following ; and Messrs. David Atwood, Amos Armsby, George A. Perry, Osgood H. Waters, and Nathan H. Sears were appointed a committee for the above purpose.

This committee received the following communication : —

“ Messrs., — The undersigned were appointed a committee at a meeting of the Society of Social Friends, held at the rooms of the Millbury Bank on the 7th April, under the following vote : ‘ Voted, That the library belonging to the Society be offered to the town of Millbury for the purpose of founding a free public library, and that a committee of three be appointed for the purpose of making and carrying into effect the necessary arrangements for the transfer.' Acting under that vote, we would tender the town through you the library belonging to the Society, upon condition that the town shall accept and make suitable provision for its care and increase.

“W. H. HARRINGTON,
SILAS DUNTON,
D. B. CHASE,

“Committee of the Society of Social Friends.”

The town, at its meeting in April, accepted the report of the committee recommending the acceptance of the gift, and made an appropriation of $100 for its care and increase.

The library, as a town institution, was first opened to the public in the rear of the post-office, in Cunningham's Block, by Henry E. Rockwell, then postmaster and librarian.

Thence it was removed to the High School building, where it was under the control of the principal of the High School as librarian.

Afterwards it was put in the store of Henry A. Aiken, who had it in charge until 1872, when it was removed to its rooms in Masonic Block, of which the town had taken a lease, and Mrs. Abbie B. Freeman was appointed librarian.

On the 1st of July, 1880, the books were removed from Masonic Block to the library room specially planned and fitted up for their reception in the new town-house.

Since its foundation there have been added to the library, by gift and by purchase, 3,582 volumes.

The largest donation was that of Dea. Leonard Dwinell, who, by will, gave to the town $100 for library purposes, which was expended for works of a standard character.

The other donors have been H. L. Ainsworth, David Atwood, Mrs. Lucy B. Barker, Luther H. Hale, and Charles Whitworth, who have given to us works of a miscellaneous character; the several senators and representatives from the town to the General Court, who have furnished us with Massachusetts State documents; and Hon. Geo. F. Hoar and Hon. W. W. Rice, who have supplied us liberally with United States publications.

The largest addition has been that of the present year, and consists of eight hundred and seventy-eight volumes.

The first general catalogue of the library was issued in 1872, and several supplements have since been made. The gratuitous labors of Luther M. Lovell, Frank M. Miles, and Mr. Hume and Mr. Jackson of the High School, in the preparation of them, are worthy of grateful acknowledgment.

The present catalogue has been prepared with great care by Henry W. Aiken, Alphonso P. Sawyer, and the librarian, Mrs. Abbie B. Freeman, under the general supervision of the latter.

While in its general plan it follows closely those in use in other libraries, like ours as to size and manner of use, it differs from most of them in this, that it presents under each section all the works belonging to a particular class and none other; an arrangement which is believed to be convenient, and which will render the selection of books comparatively easy and certain.

The whole number of volumes now belonging to the library is 4,182, classified as follows:—

SECTION 1.	Works of Fiction	1,041 Vols.
“ 2.	Juvenile Works	484 “
“ 3.	Descriptions and Travels	357 “
“ 4.	Poetical and Dramatic Works	126 “
“ 5.	Educational and Scientific Works	332 “
“ 6.	Literary and Æsthetical Works	421 “
“ 7.	Agricultural and Mechanical Works	185 “
“ 8.	Miscellaneous Works	403 “
“ 9.	Historical Works	312 “
“ 10.	Biographical Works	343 “
“ 11.	Magazines	178 “

SEPTEMBER, 1880.

RULES.

I. The Library is free to all citizens of the town, and to all pupils attending the public schools therein of the age of fourteen years and upwards.

II. Parties not known to the Librarian, as of either of the two classes above named, will be required to furnish a certificate in writing to that effect signed by some known citizen.

III. Persons between the ages of seven and fourteen may take books, provided their parents or guardians, in writing, request the delivery of books to them, and agree to become responsible for all fines that may be imposed, and for all damages that may be assessed on account of injury to books thus delivered.

IV. Books may be kept out two weeks, and for every day's detention beyond that time a fine of two cents a day shall be imposed. Books may be renewed once for two weeks, except in case of those in frequent demand. For all damage to books, other than the ordinary wear and tear, the person charged with the book shall be held responsible for such sum as may be assessed by the Trustees, and they only shall have power to modify or abate the assessment.

V. No person against whom damages have been assessed, or upon whom fines have been imposed under the preceding Rules, shall be permitted to take books from the Library until the full amount of such assessment or fines shall have been paid.

VI. One work only shall be taken from the Library at a time.

VII. Loud talking and rude behavior in the Library room are forbidden.

VIII. Any violation of the preceding Rule will be punished by exclusion of the offender from the Library room during the pleasure of the Trustees.

IX. Persons sending to the Library for books must send a written request for the delivery of books to the bearer to be charged to the sender, together with a list of numbers of books to be thus sent, and the Librarian will deliver to the bearer the first of such numbers that may be in the Library.

X. Persons desiring books purchased for the Library will give to the Librarian a list embracing the names of the books, names of the authors, and also of the publishers, when convenient, and, if found suitable, they will be procured by the Trustees as soon as possible.

XI. The Library is open for the delivery of books upon Tuesday Thursday, and Saturday of each week from 3 to 5 and 6.30 to 8 P. M. ; but books will not be delivered to pupils of the public schools on Saturday evening, and they will not then be permitted in the Library room.
